

Wednesday, February 4, 2009

FILLING OUR POTHOLES

Our local DPW has a hard time keeping our streets clear after snow and ice storms. They always do the main roads first and leave the side roads till later- much later, if ever. Seem like most of us have the main roads of our lives clear and passable most of the time. Our troubles come on the side streets we take and the pot holes that we do not deal with till later- if ever.

Posted by Cal in Christian Living at 14:07